Maui's Shut Out Hilos

Fans Give Hiloites Time of Their Lives.

Once again the baseball enthusiasts of Central Maui have shown that they appreciate good sport and that they can be relied upon to do the right thing by a bunch of visiting fans.

The All Hilo baseball team arrived on Maui by last Friday night's trip of the Mauna Kea, were received by representatives of the local athletic associations at McGregor's Landing and escorted to the Maui Hotel where they stayed while here.

The bunch was made up of the following players: C. B. Lyman, Geo. Desha, Wm. Desha, A. Desha, Chas. Makani, D. Kealoha, Joe Teves, Wm. Ahip, Ant. Rodrigues, Harry Brown, Geo. L. Todd, Jos. S. Canario. Mrs. C. B. Lyman accompanied her husband, and Stephen Desha came along in the capacity of rooster and general good fellow.

Saturday afternoon they crossed bats with the All Maui team for the first time at the Kahului Athletic Association grounds. It was a battle between pitchers from start to finish and the Hiloites won out by a score of 4 to 2, having made eight hits off the All Maui twirler.

There was a large attendance at this game and although at the beginning the visitors had few supporters at the end of the game they appeared to have the whole crowd rooting for them.

Saturday evening the visitors spent at the Harvest Home dance at the Puunene Club House, having received invitations upon arrival. That they spent an enjoyable evening goes without saying.

The second game was played at Wells Park in Wailuku on Sunday afternoon. A large attendance was present and enjoyed the game up to the ending of the eighth inning when the wind made things uncomfortable for spectators and players.

Clouds of dust gathered in an adjoining plowed cane field and swept across the diamond on to the grand stand and in a few minutes the whole attendance looked as if they were prepared to enter an antiques and horrors parade.

This game looked like an easy victory for the Maui team, who up to the ninth inning had 7 runs to the Hilo's 3. In the ninth inning the Hiloites, assisted by the dust, did things. After two hands were down they managed to make three hits and scored four runs, tying the score.

The wind continued to blow more real estate than was good for the health of players and spectators and it was decided to play the game over the next afternoon.

It was an unlucky move, no doubt, for the Hilo team. They appeared strong on the field and everything pointed to an easy victory, but Dame Fortune would have her way and at the end of the ninth inning the Maui bunch had scored six runs while the visitors failed to tally, although they made 7 hits off W. Espinda, pitcher of the local team.

The following is a summary of the last game. Lack of space does not permit publishing the summaries of the first two games.

Congressmen To Maui

Party will Land in Hana and Tour Island.

Plans are being formulated for the entertainment of the Congressional party to arrive in Honolulu on August 30th and on Maui September 12th.

The following letters received from the Secretary of the Oahu committee and the tentative itinerary mapped out will be of service as a guide but from this a number of changes will be made.

Honolulu, T. H., August 17, 1909.
H. P. Baldwin, Esq.,
Puunene, Maui.

Sir:—

By direction of Mr. Mott-Smith, Secretary of the General Committee for the entertainment of the Congressional party, I am inclosing a copy of the tentative plan prepared by the Committee, for your information. The matter has already been laid before Senator Kalama and Representative Nawahine, but as yet no replies to the suggestions have been received nor any information as to what the people of Maui desire.

Both Hawaii and Kauai have answered and on both those Islands the preparations for the reception and entertainment of the Congressmen are well under way.

Inclosed is a copy of a letter sent to Mr. Nawahine at Wailuku. "I suggest that you get in touch with him if convenient. The Kauai committee writes the General Committee that the County there will act as host. For the expenses of the Hawaii trip the General Committee has appropriated $1,500. This is to include the cost of inland transportation, expenses at the Volcano House, etc. All bills for steamship transportation will be paid from here. As you will note on the last page of the minutes inclosed the General Committee feels that it is not desirable that plans be prepared for the visiting Congressmen.

Very truly yours,

R. O. MATHESON,
Assistant Secretary, General Committee.

Monday evening the players of the two teams and several friends were given a luau at the home of Supervisor T. B. Lyons. The assembly was a jolly one and after several innings of eating and speechmaking the whole attendance adjourned to the Wailuku Town Hall, where they enjoyed themselves dancing to music

Steamers Overbooked

Will Bring Hundreds of People
About September.

Honolulu, August 16.—According to the officers of the S. S. Alameda the accommodations for people coming to Honolulu from the coast will be crowded to the limit for the next few weeks. It seems that so many people have booked to come down from San Francisco to Hawaii by the Alameda on her next trip that with three in each state-room, the ship has more wishing to come than she can carry. The same condition is true of the Lurline, which sails at about the same time, and of the Siberia, which arrives here on August 30.

The rush is due to the increase in the tourist traffic to some degree, but also to the great number of local people who are on the Coast and who wish to return about the first week in September. Among these are many school teachers who have to be back here for their work, but who wish to make the most of their trips and stay on the mainland as long as possible. Between the three steamers there should be an increase of several hundred in the local population within a week's time.

In addition to this it is stated that the bookings for the months of September and October are nearly double those of last year at this date. Everything points to a great number of visitors to Honolulu during the coming months and it seems likely that the hotels will have hard work to accommodate all who have planned visits here.

The Bulletin of August 16th has a story about Post office Inspector Hare coasting from Puunene to Haiku on a flat car. This is the first time we have ever heard of any one coasting up hill. We concede that the experience, must have been exciting as there is no railroad track to Haiku as Maliko gulch which lies between the two places is too formidable. If Mr. Hare's feat has been correctly reported it deserves to go down in history along with the walk upon the waters.

furnished by the Laninua Quintet Club led by Carl F. Rose, until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

Tuesday the boys spent taking in the sights in and around Wailuku; some going as far as Lahaina and back.

At six o'clock in the evening the team, accompanied by representatives of the local athletic associations left Wailuku for McGregor's Landing in Maui Auto Co's automobiles. At the landing there were a number of Mauites who cheered the visitors as they left in boats to board the Mauna Kea. Joe Teves and Jos. Canario stayed over and took the Claudine to Honolulu from whence they will return to Hilo.

The Hilo aggregation one and all praise in the highest terms the fans of Maui for the enjoyable time accorded them during their stay here. On the other hand the local fans feel that they have only done their due to a bunch of good, clean sports as were the Hilo boys. They were a gentlemanly lot and are spoken of by everyone who met and saw them. The local fair sex thinks, and many have expressed themselves in words, that this was the nicest looking bunch of young men ever landed here. Here's hoping we may hear from them again.

Harvest Home Festivities

The Annual Meet Thoroughly Enjoyed.

The harvest home festivities of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company for the year 1909 given at Puunene by the management and the employees of the plantation is one to be long remembered.

From the first Harvest Home given a number of years ago, when Hon. H. P. Baldwin was manager of the plantation the residents of Maui have looked forward to the Harvest Home as one of the most pleasant social functions of the year and each year seems to bring an improvement over the preceding one.

Invitations by the hundred were sent out to the best people of the island and many were issued to residents of other islands and a few to those who are here for a short time only. All who could took advantage of the opportunity and were present. Free transportation was furnished at the expense of the entertainers and on arrival at the tennis court of the Puunene Athletic Association were made welcome.

The day was given up to tennis. The best tennis players of Honolulu with one exception. Will Roth, were all there and were matched against Maui's best players.

The playing was brilliant and exciting from the first.—The Maui members probably never played better than they did this year but their opponents were the best that has yet been on Maui and won by a small margin.

A short intermission was declared at noon in order to give time for the serving of an excellent buffet lunch which had been prepared under the direction of W. Lougher and which was a credit to his skill in this line. There were all manner of good things—fried chicken, sandwiches, salads, cake, iced punch and cold dishes galore were served by a corps of competent waiters. Arrangements had been made to accommodate seven hundred guests. It was a most delightful interlude, the Laninua Quintet Club playing appropriate selections throughout.

The following is the score by matches:

HONOLULU.	Won	Lost
Ballou and Page.	3	18
Steere and Hemenway.	15	10
Cunha and Warren.	17	13
Cooke and Gee.	18	2

In the evening a dance was enjoyed at the Puunene Club House. The dancing hall was tastefully decorated and the floor in excellent condition. At 11:30 o'clock the many guests from Honolulu took the train for Kahului where they took the steamer for Honolulu.

The day was a most enjoyable one and will be long remembered as one of the most pleasant of the season.

Frank A. Lufkin left by the Mikahala Saturday night for Honolulu and took the steamer there for Victoria on his way back to school. He was accompanied as far as Honolulu by his father C. D. Lufkin of the First National Bank.
